HITLER PLANS FOR CONQUEST OF DANZIG, POLAND REVEALED

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER

INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE STAFF CORRESPONDENT

PARIS, June 30 (INS)—Adolf Hitler has launched his greatest gamble.

Europe's brief period of rest from terror is ended.

The Fuehrer has definitely determined not only to take Danzig but to settle the entire "Polish problem" in a totalitarian way and although he believes he can do it without war he has made up his mind if necessary to fight.

His plans are completed to stand fast on the Siegfried line and simply restrain the French in the West while his Eastern army smashes Poland.

He is convinced that he can accomplish this in three months and that the British and French would then gladly accept peace terms.

This melancholy summary faithfully reproduces information reaching the French and British intelligence services which estimate July 20 as the date whence the crisis will begin to climb to a peak expected around mid-August.

On July 20 the German crops, which this year are ripening about three weeks earlier than usual, will be gathered. By then it also ought to be clear what Soviet Russia is going to do about French and British efforts to win her signature to a military alliance so that Hitler no longer will feel he should delay action in order not to provoke Moscow into joining the coalition against him.

The outline of the Danzig crisis has now taken a form which it is believed can be foreseen fairly well up to a certain point. Hitler now commands nearly a million men on the Siegfried line and believes them sufficient within their fortifications to hold the western front indefinitely, especially as he does not expect the French to attack seriously.

HALF MILLION ON EASTERN FRONT

Meanwhile, another half-million are concentrated on the Polish frontier with reserves which by the striking date will bring the eastern army to a full million.

Within the city of Danzig 45,000 German storm troops and S. S. men who entered in the guise of tourists are now being organized into a "free corps" with more serious duties than their counterparts in the Sudetenland, whose chief task was to provoke incidents.

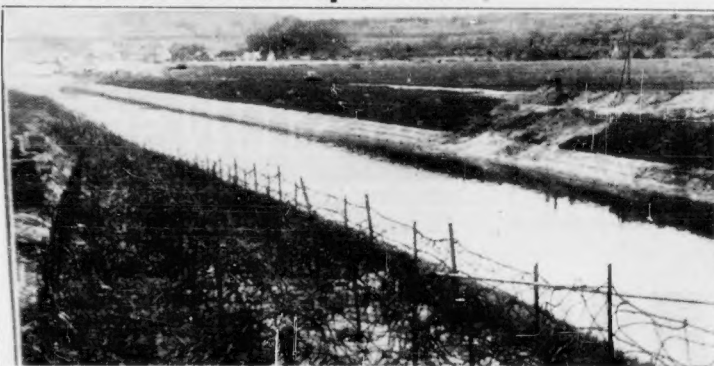

The Danzig "Free Corps" is destined to attempt to defend the city from the Polish army when the Danzig Senate proclaims "Anschluss." Another shipload of "Strength Through Joy" tourists arriving today is expected to bring the total to 50,000, while before the crisis date the number may be double.

They are being armed secretly with imported machine

F. R. AIDS FIGHT FOR BLOOM BILL

By WILLIAM S. NEAL

WASHINGTON, June 30 (INS)—Stunned by a revolt during an uproarious night session in which the House voted to retain the embargo on sale of arms and ammunition to warring nations, administration leaders today rallied forces in an effort to reverse the action and pass the Bloom bill.

The drive for passage of the Bloom bill, which proposed repeal of the mandatory arms embargo provisions of the neutrality act, was temporarily abandoned at midnight after a 13-hour session of the House.

Foes of the measure, weary after day and night fighting, unsuccessfully opposed adjournment. They feared White House pressure would be redoubled to force recalcitrant Democrats in line for the bill.

The plan of administration leaders was upset when the House, Continued on Page 17, Column 1

Dempsey Battles Death in Hospital

NEW YORK, June 30 (INS)—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion, and one of the most colorful money fighters of all time, fought for his biggest purse today.

Life was at stake as Dempsey lay in a darkened room at Polyclinic Hospital fighting the twin dangers of a gangrenous appendix and peritonitis.

"He is very seriously ill," said A. A. Jaller, superintendent of the hospital. "Peritonitis has set in as a result of a gangrenous appendix."

So serious was Dempsey's condition that even his wife, the former actress, Hannah Williams, was not permitted in his room.

Dempsey's appendix ruptured before he reached the operating table for an emergency operation after he had partly collapsed at his apartment.

The former champion had been ill for several days but as he has always been more or less "in training" and has kept fit, he scoffed at the idea of submitting to a physical examination and insisted he would be all right.

Jack's wife, wasn't so sure, however, and last night while they were playing cards and Jack was obviously wincing with pain, she insisted on calling Dr. Alfred Lilienfeld, the ex-champ's physician.

RUSHED TO HOSPITAL

A hasty examination indicated that Jack's appendix was acting up and he was rushed to the hospital. Chief Surgeon Dr. Robert Emory Brennan was waiting and Jack was taken directly to the operating room without the usual blood count or other preliminaries.

The operation took something less than two hours and developed that Dempsey was in far more serious condition than he had suspected or would have believed.

ACTED JUST IN TIME

According to Ned Brown, the ex-champion's business associate, the operation was performed "just in time to save Jack's life."

Dempsey had a bad appendicitis attack in Toronto in 1937 but at that time the appendix was frozen, apparently responded to the treatment and had not bothered the former champion since.

For the next few days, Jack will be under close observation as post-operative effects are extremely likely to follow an appendectomy in which peritonitis shows.

Of all infectious diseases, peritonitis is the most dangerous.

MRS. HELEN MADDEN
Guilty, Family Split

Parents of 4 Found Guilty Of Neglect

They were on welfare at $13.75 a week, but her husband came home drunk in a taxicab. 21-year-old Helen Madden testified today in West Roxbury court, where both were charged with neglecting their four minor children.

"They both are guilty," Judge Daniel W. Casey declared after testimony by Helen, by the husband, William, 35, by social workers and by police.

CASE OFF UNTIL JULY 28

The court set July 28 as the date for disposition, but meanwhile allowed both to go on their own recognizance and permitted the young mother to leave for Maine where she expects to get a job.

Their four children, meanwhile, were divided temporarily between relatives.

His two older children, Helen, 4, and Joan, 3, were placed in care of their paternal grandmother, Mrs. Johanna Madden of Williams street, Jamaica Plain.

Loretta, 2 years old, went to Madden's sister, Mrs. Mary Egan of East Weymouth, and the youngest child, William, Jr., 9 months, was placed in care of another paternal aunt, Mrs. Catherine Backofner, of Cail street, Jamaica Plain.

After the hearing, an attempt by social workers to effect a reconciliation between the couple failed.

YOUNG WIFE IN TEARS

Bursting into tears, the young mother, who had testified she was forced to leave high school in the third year because she discovered she was to become a mother, said:

"No, I won't live with him any more. I can't. I just don't love him any more. My feeling for him is gone."

"A year ago I might have gone back to live with him but now I can't."

"Of course I want my children, just as any mother would. I'd like to take them with me but if I can't I hope to be able to send them at least $5 a week from the job I hope to get in Maine."

Madden charged his wife with neglecting the children and the home to read love stories and go out with other men. She herself denied going out with men, except once when, she said, she did it to make her husband jealous.

But after he had seen her talking to a man in a car, she said, Madden picked up a knife during the subsequent quarrel, and in protecting herself she was cut on the arm.

Quiz Coast Killer in Dancer, Actress Attacks

SON CONFESSES SLAYING FORMER FILM ACTRESS

HOLLYWOOD, June 30 (AP)—Police, claiming a confession of matricide from Campbell McDonald, heavy set, 25-year-old student, grilled him at length today regarding the bludgeoning to death five months ago of a pretty, young Russian dancer.

McDonald, arrested at Santa Monica at midnight was quoted by Radio Policeman Charles Varco as admitting he beat his mother, Mrs. Margaret Campbell, 36, teacher and former silent screen actress, to death with a hammer last Sunday night.

In later questioning, he said he remembered nothing from the time he went to sleep Sunday night and awoke early the next morning to find his mother "lying in bed, all in a mess."

"She said that she was going to have me placed in an institution," Varco said McDonald told him.

Officers reported McDonald denied knowledge of the fatal slugging of Anya Sosoyeva, former Ziegfeld Follies dancer, on the Los Angeles City College campus last February.

Varco said McDonald was arrested as he "hunched a ride" at a Santa Monica intersection and readily admitted his identity.

At the police station, the officer reported the following conversation took place:

Varco: "Did you kill your mother?"

McDonald: "I must have done it—yes, I did it."

"Did you use a hammer?"

"I think I did."

"Well, did you?"

"Yes, I used a hammer."

"Why did you do it?"

TELLS OF FLIGHT

"I came home Sunday night and went to bed. Mother began picking on me. She said I had been studying too hard and that she was going to have me placed in an institution. I told her that was unfair—very unfair, then I went to sleep."

"What else do you remember?"

"I awoke, mother was lying in bed, all in a mess. Her nightclothes were on. That is what I next remember. Then I left the room and walked down Hollywood boulevard. A naked man ran past me and called me a sap. I then boarded a street car and went downtown."

Officers recalled that a naked man had been reported seen on Hollywood boulevard late Sunday night.

Captain Dalton R. Patton, head of the Los Angeles police department's homicide bureau, said Mc-

Donald would be examined by a psychiatrist.

McDonald told Patton he has spent the time since Sunday in Los Angeles, Long Beach, Venice and Santa Monica, sleeping in parks. He told of spending his last money for lunch in a Santa Monica cafe yesterday.

"Three police officers walked in and sat down beside me. I heard them discussing the murder of my mother, but they did not recognize me."

Patton said the youth would be quizzed also about the beating of Delia Bogaku, 17-year-old film dancer, who was seriously wounded by an attacker a month after the Sosoyeva case.

Other boys, in a similar situation, may have visualized themselves astride a shiny new bike, or a pony—but not Paul.

Without telling his family, he gathered up the bills, went into the street and distributed them among his friends, young and old.

Here's a Pal Who Shares Wealth With Everybody

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., June 30 (AP)—Eight-year-old Paul Martin subscribes to a share-your-wealth plan.

Playing in the cellar of his home he knocked down an old picture and was virtually covered by a deluge of old-fashioned greenbacks—totaling about $400.

Jap Bombs Destroy Big American School

SHANGHAI, June 30 (AP)—Japanese planes destroyed a plainly-marked American school at Foochow today in the opening of coastal offensives which Chinese declared had been repulsed so far.

At the same time the British gunboat Grasshopper landed 38 blue-jackets to protect British interests in Foochow. Japanese yesterday blockaded the ports of Foochow and Wenchow despite warnings from the United States, Great Britain and France that the invaders would be held responsible for damage to foreign interests.

Damage to the American-owned Union Middle School, two miles west of Foochow, was estimated at $50,000. Two projectiles hit the large, foreign-style building, which was a mile from any other structure of similar character. There were no casualties.

Chinese dispatches telling of the defeat of a Japanese landing party at Pingtan Island, 45 miles south-east of Foochow, were confirmed by neutral naval sources. The retreating Japanese were said to have forced 100 Chinese fishermen to accompany them on board waiting warships.

Brisk machine-gun fire was said to have kept Japanese landing parties from gaining a foothold on the mainland near Wenchow.

Chinese defenses at Foochow were subjected to heavy aerial bombardment. At Tientsin, Japanese relaxed further their restrictions on passage into and out of the blockaded French and British concessions permitting Chinese to leave those areas at will. Food supplies at both French and British markets, which ran low at times since the blockade was imposed June 14, were plentiful today.

Danzig Boosts 'Police Force'

DANZIG, June 30 (AP)—The Nazi-controlled government of Danzig eyed apprehensively in much of Europe as a danger spot to peace—went ahead today with strengthening of the Free City's police force. Officials said this was necessary as a precautionary measure because of "the hysteria prevailing in Poland."

It was denied that any German troops had entered Danzig and there was no sign of military activity in the city or the adjoining countryside.

STAYS—U. S. Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, who cancelled planned trip home because of European crisis.

Kennedy Calls Off Clipper Trip to U. S.

WASHINGTON, June 30—Alarm in the nation's capital over the increasing gravity of the German-Polish crisis led President Roosevelt to instruct Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy to remain in London rather than to make a flight to America on the Yankee Clipper, sources close to the White House revealed today.

Because it was felt the ambassador will be more useful at his London post should serious trouble break out in Europe, unprecedented plans for Kennedy's transatlantic trip were abandoned. Arrangements had been made, it was reported, for Kennedy to give President Roosevelt a firsthand report on whether England intends to block Hitler's newest threats, or further appease the German dictator.

Sources close to the White House intimated the President regarded the growing German-Polish tension so grave that he felt Kennedy would be more useful at his post in London at this time than in Washington.

The explosive Central European situation, resulting from the reported heavy infiltration of Nazi storm troopers in to Danzig and from Poland's reputed determination forcibly to resist a German coup, thereby was canvassed at a luncheon conference between the President and Secretary of State Hull.

Daladier Summons Cabinet in Crisis

PARIS, June 30 (AP)—Amid officially expressed fears of grave times ahead, Premier Daladier today called the cabinet to meet tomorrow morning in a session which informed sources said would deal principally with the international situation.

Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet was expected to report on the negotiations at Moscow for a British-French-Russian mutual assistance accord. Several financial and economic decrees were slated for approval.

Reports reaching diplomatic sources that the Nazis were organizing their forces for a Danzig coup heightened French anxieties. The nation looked to her defenses as French diplomatic quarters received reports that Germany had called 600,000 reservists to its colors and that Italian military equipment was shuttling through the Brenner Pass.

General Maurice Gustave Gamelin, head of all French armed forces and a wiry little man who probably holds more military power than any French general since Napoleon—was near the Italian frontier inspecting Alpine defenses.

Reports that "men and officers of the German army" were moving into Danzig were said to have resulted in a long conference yesterday at which Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet assured Polish Ambassador Julius Lukasiewicz that Britain and France would lend automatic military aid in case of aggression.

The reports of troop movements into Danzig were denied in Germany.

Italian railway troop cars were said by the Swiss Socialist paper Berner Tagwacht to be passing continually over the Brenner Pass into Germany.

Nazis Mass Troops At French Border

PARIS, June 30 (INS)—Disturbing reports from the eastern frontier today indicated mysterious German troop movements were about opposite France's Maginot line.

Reinforcements of German troops were reported to have moved into positions in the neighborhood of Kehl and Karlsruhe along the Reich's new (Siegfried) line, which faces the Maginot underground fortifications.

Unofficial information from various sources indicated growing military movements and preparations within Germany, apparently being undertaken to pave the path for a decisive phase of the Danzig situation.

Mussolini Keeps Watch on Crisis

ROME, June 30 (AP)—Premier Mussolini was reported today to be in very close touch with his axis partner, Chancellor Hitler, by telephone and to be watching carefully the tense European situation.

Il Duce preserved a strict silence regarding international developments, while an increased uneasiness was apparent among Italians.

There were reports he had conferred secretly with Hitler at some frontier point, but these were authoritatively denied as "absurd."

CLAIM POLES DESERTING

BERLIN, June 30 (INS)—Large batches of deserters from the Polish army are crossing the border into Germany, the Nazi newspaper Der Angriff reported from Kattowitz, Poland, today.

WORKING WIVES UPHELD BY COURT

It is unconstitutional to bar married women from employment in public service, or to restrict their employment, the Massachusetts Supreme court held today.

The ruling came as a result of a request for an opinion by the legislature, with opponents of working wives already having indicated they would seek a constitutional amendment in the event of an adverse decision.

The court's majority opinion was signed by five of the justices—Chief Justice Fred T. Field, and Charles H. Donahue, Henry T. Lummus, Stanley E. Qua and Arthur W. Dolan.

A minority opinion written by Justice James J. Ruman was concurred in by Justice Louis S. Cox.

The majority opinion said: "Married women are not, by reason either of being women or of being married, excluded from citizenship, though before comparatively recent constitutional changes women did not have the political right of voting and of holding public office."

"Women, married or unmarried, are members of the state. Subject only to constitutional limitations, they share with other citizens the duties and privileges of citizenship. And like other citizens they are entitled to the benefits of the constitutional guarantees against arbitrary discrimination."

The court also held that a pending measure to prohibit employment of husband and wife by the state at the same time was unconstitutional.

The majority's 25-page opinion was concluded with the statement that pending bills to bar married women from public service jobs would, if enacted, be "in violation of the constitution of the Commonwealth, because creating arbitrary discrimination in the selections of persons in employment for the public service."

"Discrimination that would be arbitrary," the opinion added, "as against persons not already employed in the public service clearly would be arbitrary as against persons already so employed, and it is unnecessary to consider whether there could be any additional constitutional objection to such discrimination as against persons already so employed."

LOVE-LORN DANCER PLUNGES 9 STORIES

NEW YORK, June 30 (AP)—Eluding the grasp of a man who said he had rejected her pleas of marriage, a 19-year-old cafe dancer plunged nine stories to death today from a window in the Van Cortlandt Hotel.

She was Eileen O'Connor, of Clifton, N. J., known professionally as Blai Buchard.

Alexander Bukoesik, 25, who vainly sought to woo her, told police the girl came here about 19 days ago after finishing a dancing engagement in Baltimore.

The girl, he said, sought to renew her acquaintance with him. Last night, he related, they visited several restaurants and then went to his room where she implored him to marry her. He said he was unemployed and could not assume the responsibility.

Thereupon, Bukoesik said, the

Lyons and Mahoney Agree to Pay Lynch $13,439 for Slander

Mayor John W. Lyons of Cambridge, and James F. Mahoney, superintendent of streets, agreed today in East Cambridge court to pay—on the installment plan—the total of $13,439.77 in slander judgments secured against them by former Mayor John D. Lynch.

The judgments were in suits by Lynch that grew out of radio campaign addresses by Mayor Lyons in the Cambridge mayoralty fight in 1935 and pamphlets containing the addresses and signed by Mahoney.

Under the terms of the installment-plan agreement, Lyons and Mahoney will each pay Lynch $500 tomorrow, on August 15 and on October 1, with the balances to be paid up within a year from the first payment.

The judgment secured in Middlesex superior civil court against Lyons was $6480.80, while that against Mahoney was $6958.97.

Lyons and Mahoney, with their wives, were summoned into East Cambridge court for an examination as to their ability to pay the judgments. Eventually, however, the wives were not called.

Their counsel, Albert G. Tierney, told the court, when the case was called, that he would like a process to "make a proposition."

"We don't want to have this aired out in court," he said.

Judge Thomas Weston replied: "I never make an order unless the defendant can pay it, and once it is made it must be lived up to or the defendant goes to jail."

Then Tierney conferred with the Lynch counsel, Robert T. Bushnell and Jacob Lewin, and the agreement was reached.

JAIL CELL YAWNS FOR OFFICE WIFE

NEW YORK, June 30 (AP)

A jury today had rejected the explanation of "office wife" Mrs. Lillian Schrein that large sums of money she took from Martin Beck, theatrical producer, and her husband's uncle, constituted the gifts of a man to his mistress.

The 12 men convicted her of two and one of grand larceny, involving a total of $60,000—only a fraction, the prosecution contends, of the amount she took from the 71-year-old Broadway figure to spend on lavish living. She will be sentenced July 7 and the maximum penalty would be 30 years in prison.

Mrs. Schrein, 38, mother of three, dark and comely in a heavy-featured way, took the verdict stoically, but her husband, Bertram, the object during the trial of the expressed scorn of both state and defense counsel, wept bitterly.

The jury found specifically that Mrs. Schrein had forged a $1375 check to a Fifth avenue clothing store, issued in the name of Beck's wife, Louise; that she had committed a similar forgery in the unauthorized sale of certain of Beck's securities, and that her payment of a second check to the clothing store—this one for $1000—constituted larceny.

Assistant District Attorney Herman McCarthy contended that while the thefts formally charged against Mrs. Schrein, Beck's former secretary, amounted to $60,000, she actually had made off with about $370,000 of the old man's money.

F. D. Money Power Hangs in Balance

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—An overnight administration coup restoring President Roosevelt's dollar devaluation powers to the monetary bill went before Congress today in an atmosphere of grave doubt whether it would be enacted before emergency fiscal controls die at midnight.

END STRIKE AS NEEDY GET BREAD

Through 12 Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation stations in Boston, 21,000 loaves of bread were distributed today to welfare and WPA families, bread that could not be delivered yesterday to stores because of the bakery truck drivers' strike, which ended last night.

The distribution was under direction of John Stalker, Boston director of the Surplus Commodities Corporation.

The Happy Homes Baking Company furnished 12,000 loaves of bread, while the other 9,000 came from the Continental Baking Company.

Two loaves were given to each large family and a loaf each to smaller families.

The 12 stations are in Blossom street, West End; Church street, South End; Eden street, Charlestown; Park street, Dorchester; Elm street, Jamaica Plain; Washington street, Roslindale; Dighton street, Brighton; Meridian street, East Boston; Howard avenue and Hampden street, Roxbury; Hyde Park municipal building, and Woodrow avenue, Dorchester.

With the two-day strike over, normal deliveries of bread were being made today to stores, as the 1400 drivers involved returned to work.

Also back at work were 4500 bakers who had been forced into idleness as a result of the dispute which stopped deliveries from 37 major baking companies.

At a meeting in Convention Hall, Back Bay, members of Local 494 of the Bakery Drivers' Union voted 485 to 280 to accept a peace proposal giving them an average weekly pay raise of $2.50.

Dutch Cabinet Quits Over Borrowing Issue

AMSTERDAM, June 30 (AP)—The cabinet of Dr. Hendrikus Colijn resigned today as a result of a controversy with Catholic ministers over the question of borrowing funds to finance defense and unemployment projects.

Colijn, veteran political leader who passed his seventieth birthday June 22, was asked by Queen Wilhelmina immediately to try to form another government. He withheld a decision temporarily.

Legion Head Named Hub July 4 Orator

The city of Boston will have Stephen F. Chawick, national commander of the American Legion, as orator of honor at the city's Fourth of July exercises at Faneuil Hall.

Commander Chawick will be presented by Mayor Maurice J. Tobin, and the oration will be broadcast over a nation-wide hook-up. The oration is a Boston custom dating from 1793.

Lexington Streets Dark at Midnight

Estimating they will save $3000 a year, the Lexington selectmen have voted that all the town's street lights shall be turned off at midnight, starting Wednesday night, July 5.

Since 1932, the town's lights have been extinguished at 1 a. m. instead of burning all night. The selectmen's action was designed to help reduce the tax rate.

CALL SHOE STRIKE PARLEY

ROCKLAND, June 30—Union leaders and employers agreed to today in a conference next Wednesday for considering settlement of the five-day strike at the Keith & McCain Shoe Company.

Democratic leaders, working feverishly to hold their lines against a disgruntled coalition, expected little difficulty in winning approval. But Senate action depended largely on a bipartisan combination of anti-devaluationists, who under the rules of unlimited debate had an opportunity to filibuster the bill to death.

There appeared to be a better chance of enacting the huge 1939-40 relief bill before WPA funds are exhausted tonight. Members of a joint Senate House committee reached a compromise last evening on universal provisions, but did not divulge the nature of their agreement before presenting it to the House for ratification.

As for the monetary agreement, a Republican coalition spokesman said it would be "fought to the end," but he evidenced a desire to confer with associates before saying whether there would be a filibuster in the House.

Democratic opponents also disavowed any filibustering intentions pending pre-session consultations.

President Roosevelt, whose devaluation power and authority to maintain the $2,000,000,000 currency stabilization fund expire at midnight unless the bill is passed, may make a personal trip to the Capitol to sign it in event of an administration victory.

On the other hand, if the bill is talked to death and powers voted in 1933 to combat foreign currency depreciation and its adverse effect on American trade are allowed to lapse, no one would venture a guess as to what would happen.

The quick agreement came as a surprise to many legislators—especially those of dollar devaluation—

WINDOW SMASHERS GET GEMS

Two youths hurled a brick through the window of a Warren street, Roxbury, jewelry shop in a daring mid-day robbery today and escaped with a tray of diamond rings valued at $771.

So suddenly did the robbery take place that Morris Elberman, owner of the store, and his clerk, Miss Ida Rappaport, were left stunned by the sound of shattering glass and the sight of the fleeing youths.

Louie Davidson, owner of a sign company across the street, undertook a chase of the bandits towards Dudley street, and was joined by several bystanders. The youths, however, vanished in the traffic.

Described as about 25 years of age and wearing dungarees, the youths answer the description of the pair who have committed thefts of a similar nature in downtown Boston within the past week and have so far evaded police.

Dixie Clipper Lands, Yankee Starts Back

MAIRSEILLE, France, June 30 (AP)—The Dixie Clipper today completed the first scheduled transatlantic flight with paying passengers when she arrived here from Port Washington, N. Y., via Horta and Lisbon, at 9:20 a. m. Boston time.

The Clipper, with 22 passengers and a crew of 11, made the hop from Lisbon in 6 hours 37 minutes and had an elapsed time of 30 hours 29 minutes for the trip from Port Washington.

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., June 30 (AP)—The Yankee Clipper, Pan American Airways flying boat which this week made an inaugural scheduled air mail flight across the North Atlantic, started her return trip at 10:17 a. m. Boston time, today with a cargo of mail and 15 guests.

The Clipper arrived here on the 31st-mile flight from New York Wednesday evening, bringing mail and a score of government and air line officials as observers.

Buckner's Fate In Jury's Hands

NEW YORK, June 30 (INS)—William P. Buckner, chairman of a bondholders protective committee that failed to protect, was to know today whether he is to go to a federal penitentiary as a defrauder or return to Hollywood's film colony, where he was a friend of Loretta Young and other prominent movie stars.

The last words for and against the young promoter will be spoken in the austere courtroom of Judge Henry W. Goddard this morning, and, after the judge's charge to the jury of nine business men and three housewives, will retire to decide his and four other defendants' cases.

Buckner's co-defendants are a nervous little Senator, Felipe Buco, Philippine political power; Captain John Stuart Hyde, British war veteran; O. Wooty Turner, a boasted millionaire; and William J. Gillespie, a small operator in Wall Street.

WIDOW—The 20-year-old wife of Ray Olson, Wisconsin's "bad man" shot to death by posse after he killed two deputy sheriffs, shown behind bars in jail, where she was placed when two-week hunt for the desperado was started. She sobbed when news of his end was brought her.

MacLeish Confirmed Congress Librarian

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Archibald MacLeish, the Connecticut poet, as librarian of Congress.

The nomination was approved 61 to 8 after Senator Austin (R.) of Vermont, had protested that MacLeish was not qualified as a professional librarian.

Faints of Joy as Jury Frees Her in Murder

NEW YORK, June 30 (AP)—Mrs. Agnes Osborne (sainted as a Staten Island jury, after 15 minutes deliberation, acquitted her of manslaughter in the fatal shooting of Patrolman Emmet Cassidy at her home in what she described as a defense against his advances. Revived, she thanked the jurors and then fainted again.

Link 'Higher Ups' In Connolly Ouster

Surprise disclosures, said to involve persons of high standing in Boston, were in prospect today in ouster proceedings against John Patrick Connolly, clerk of Suffolk superior civil court.

The disclosures were promised by Boston Bar Association counsel, as Connolly filed a state supreme court motion demanding the naming of persons alleged to have conspired with him in extorting money from workers in his office.

WANT NAMES BAIRED

Connolly's petition also demands the naming of Massachusetts bar members alleged to have engaged in private practice of law, on the county's time, while employed under him.

And the petition further demands the naming of victims of the alleged extortion conspiracy, the naming of "faithful" employees allegedly dismissed by Connolly without cause and the naming of "run-tilt" employees allegedly hired by him.

WILL PROVIDE DATA

Attorneys Arthur J. Searcy and Reuben L. Lourie, representing the Boston Bar Association, were on record as having agreed to furnish the names and other specifications called for by Connolly.

The Boston Bar Association brought the charges against the Suffolk superior court clerk, asking that the state supreme court order his removal for "misfeasance, malfeasance and nonfeasance" in office.

Veteran's Widow May Escape Exile

If Mrs. Harriet A. Thompson, 76-year-old Charlestown widow, is subject to deportation because of an illegal entry from Canada 11 years ago she may yet escape the penalty by taking a trip back to Canada and re-entering legally, an immigration official here asserted today.

With many officials and patriotic societies rallying to the aid of the aged woman, a grandmother and widow of an American soldier, it was virtually certain, this official said, that permission for re-entry would be granted.

Mrs. Thompson, whose home is in Sullivan street, Charlestown, had been given 90 days in which to leave the country, although she had lived here for 40 years prior to the Canadian trip which caused her present difficulties. She is now hoping for a stay of that order so that she may re-establish her right to live in the United States.

Immigration service records showed that Mrs. Thompson, a native of England, first came to this country in 1888 and lived in Boston until she married William Kelley, a Canadian citizen, in 1927 and lived with him for a year in Canada.

Her re-entry, officials said, was made without a permit or visa in 1928, and was illegal under a 1934 immigration statute requiring aliens who leave the United States to obtain a re-entry permit or visa if they return.

Immigration service records show she married John Parker Thompson, an American citizen, in September, 1933. She was quoted as saying she felt free to marry Thompson because she had not heard from Kelley for seven years. Kelley is reported to be living now in North Sydenham, N. S.

Thompson, who served in the American army, died last year. His aged widow told officials she thought her marriage to him had made her a citizen.

For the past few years, Mrs. Thompson has been caring for a granddaughter, Bernice Elizabeth Gray, now 17.

SOUGHT PENSION

Since the death of her husband, Thompson, his widow has been attempting to get a government pension. During his service in the army, she claims, he was injured by explosion of a gun. Her pension claim has been held up for lack of his discharge papers.

The aged woman received many offers of help yesterday as she planned to launch her battle to remain permanently in this country. Among those who came to her aid were U. S. Marshal John J. Murphy and former Middlesex Dist. Atty. Warren L. Bishop, who offered to act as her counsel.

Didn't Give His Right Name, But Cops Find Out

Ordinarily a law-abiding young fellow, 20-year-old Jimmy Powers of Thorndike street, Arlington, felt pretty bad when Metropolitan district police, conducting a drive against auto ride "thumpers," arrested him on the Mystic Valley parkway.

He didn't want to give his right name, so he told the booking officer he was "James Brown" of Boston.

But Jimmy's family was beginning to get worried, knowing he had been swimming in the Mystic lakes.

After several hours, a relative called the Metropolitan police, described Jimmy and asked that the swimming hole be dragged for his body.

"Guess that won't be necessary," said the desk sergeant. "We've got a 'Jimmy' here who's probably the one you want. Just hold the line a minute."

Back at the phone, after a brief interval, the sergeant reported: "Your Jimmy Powers is our 'James Brown' of Boston. And he's safe in a cell."

"His next public appearance will be in Woburn court, to answer a charge of soliciting an auto ride on a state highway."

SIGNS BILL REPEALING PAY TAX

A SCANT 14 hours before more than 100,000 Massachusetts workers would have again become liable to a tax on their wages, Governor Saltonstall today signed a legislative bill permanently repealing employment contributions to the state unemployment compensation fund.

Only statement the governor made as he affixed his name to the voters' wage tax repeal bill was:

"The act speaks for itself."

Because the unemployment compensation fund was sufficiently large to meet all possible demands upon it, employee contributions were suspended for one year by the last legislature.

The suspension, however, would have expired at midnight, tonight.

464-Mile Mercy Dash With Stricken Child

DENVER, June 30 (AP)—A 464-mile mercy dash that led over two mountain passes ended today when M. R. (Jim) Malone of Macon, Ga. arrived at Children's Hospital here with his daughter, Jennie, 4, critically ill of spotted fever.

In relays five highway patrolmen escorted Malone's automobile during the 7½-hour trip, made at an average speed of 62 miles an hour.

DISABLED VETERANS CONVENE

Disabled American veterans of the World War from all parts of the state arrived in Boston today for their eighth annual convention to be held jointly with that of the women's auxiliary and the Trench Rats, fun-making unit of the organization.

Registration opened at the Parker House headquarters this afternoon, with the first business meeting of the joint conventions scheduled for this evening. The National Order of Trench Rats will hold a special rendezvous at midnight.

Department Commander Eugene C. Sheehan of Somerville and Mrs. Dorothy A. McCarthy, of Roslindale, auxiliary president, will preside at the respective sessions.

Tomorrow afternoon the auxiliary will hold its annual reception for invited guests including Gold Star mothers, World War nurses, national and state officers. The program also includes an address by Lawrence F. Quigley, commandant of the Civilian Soldiers' Home and the annual Silver Tea. The annual auxiliary banquet and ball will be held Saturday night.

On Sunday the disabled veterans will hold memorial services aboard the U. S. S. Constitution at the Navy Yard at 10 a. m., with Capt. T. H. Thompson, navy chaplain, officiating.

Election of officers for both groups will be held Sunday afternoon at the Parker House. Harold McElroy, commander of Framingham chapter and aide to National Commander Owen D. Galvin, of Cincinnati, has withdrawn his candidacy in favor of A. Richard Zu-Tuh, S. V. C. Lowell newspaper man.

Joseph H. Gillis leads the veterans convention committee, while the auxiliary committee includes Ann Sheehan, Hope McQueen, Julia Taylor, Dorothy Loran, Elizabeth Colgate, Isabelle Lyons, Callet McIntyre and Nora Faherty.

KNICKERBOCKER REVEALS HITLER CONQUEST PLANS

guns and rifles, but possess no artillery, which is impossible to smuggle past the Polish customs. The "Free Corps" is under command of Heinrich Himmler, chief of the Nazi Gestapo, who is now in Danzig.

Almost surrounding the city are massed upwards of 100,000 Polish troops with artillery sufficient to smash and capture Danzig before the regular German army could reach it.

This will be a local military situation when the peak of the crisis approaches, probably in August, signalled by the Danzig Senate's proclamation of the city's return to the Reich.

"FREE CORPS" TO OUST POLES

Simultaneously, the "Free Corps" will occupy all strategic points and evict Polish customs and postal authorities, but at first no units of the German army will come in.

The whole coup will be represented as a strictly internal Danzig affair. Then, if the Polish army attempts to occupy Danzig as the constitution of the Free City entitles it to do, the Germans will claim that the Poles are the aggressors.

From the moment of proclamation of "Anschluss," the further course of the crisis depends entirely upon whether the Poles will fight. If they hesitate even a few hours in order to ask Franco-British advice, they will follow Czechoslovakia's example and suffer her fate.

If the Poles march immediately they can count on Franco-British help instantaneously.

As a French spokesman today put it:

"The first skirmish between German and Polish troops will automatically bring within an hour total Franco-British mobilization and precipitate a general conflict."

In that case, according to Hitler's plan, the Germans will remain inesorably on the defensive in the west, and while the eastern army sweeps through Poland the Fuehrer will deluge Britain and France with propaganda swearing that Germany wants nothing but vital space in the east and that the British and French have nothing to win from

THEN AN OFFER OF PEACE

Then when he is finished with Poland he will offer Britain and France peace. If they refuse, he will reckon with the resources gained from Poland and perhaps Rumania also will enable him to take the offensive in the west and invade France, probably by way of Switzerland.

Hitler does not believe the Red army will participate. He does not believe that Britain and France will fight seriously but merely mobilize as they did before Munich, meanwhile privately pressing Poland to surrender.

He is convinced that a "Danzig Munich" is the likeliest outcome. Finally, he is banking heavily on his reports that isolationist sentiment in the United States will not only keep America from effectively aiding the British and French but that they know it, and hence will be afraid to fight.

This description of Hitler's plans is not speculation, but information upon which Premier Daladier of France and Winston Churchill of England based their warnings to Germany on speeches just delivered.

To this gloomy prospect there is the alternative that the Poles may choose not to resist. In that case, the entire allied peace front collapses and the Third Reich expands without firing a shot over all eastern Europe as the first instalment of vital space for the 200,000,000 Germans which Hitler has declared as his goal.

Whatever the leaders may wish to do, the people of the allied countries now would certainly reject a "Danzig Munich," but the real decision lies with Poland. The army is holed in Poland today and will remain so throughout the greatest crisis of our time.

F. D. Pushes Fight On Neutrality Bill

by a vote of 151 to 147, against an amendment of Rep. John Vorys (R) of Ohio to retain an absolute embargo on shipment of arms and munitions to belligerent nations.

The amendment retained the embargo of the present law, limiting only the indefinite term of application of war.

Encouraged by his victory, Vorys then moved to bring to a vote an amendment to the bill, to be passed in December, and a large number of members in opposition to the time immemorial ban on exports took the floor to test a threatened result on the amendment.

He argued in vain that he could not make a compromise with a bill and vote. Acting Chairman Bloom of the foreign affairs committee, presiding, pronounced the measure a "formal adjournment" to the next session.

"We had to continue here going 13 hours and were worn out," Bloom said after he had moved for adjournment. The vote will throw out the Vorys amendment and pass the bill.

SEEN PROPOSING IN
Representation took place in New York, where the administration has been in the lead.

"They were afraid of a vote," he said. "They wanted to know what the White House and political machine leaders in big cities could bring pressure on democratic members to force them to vote to scrap the embargo and permit munitions makers to continue as in war by trading with the whole world in time of war."

Senator General Farley was busy on the telephone during the night trying to whip minorities in New York. They'll be threatened with rights against non-unionism and loss of patronage."

Vorys, who introduced a committee amendment previously passed by the House (H. R. 10,000), said the House is ready to act by a vote of 151 to 147.

The amendment prohibits shipment of arms and munitions to belligerent nations and is the most of arms embargo the American people want," said Vorys.

It is the kind that experts on international law think should be retained. It will help keep us out of war by forbidding a traffic that would make it possible to supply with whom we are at peace for the use of our munitions, and the inside to our neutrality.

The House after adjourning, the Vorys amendment passed 151 to 147, and the bill passed 249 to 147.

No Party

—Principals of 20th Century-Fox production of Elsa Maxwell's novel "Women Take a Sneeze" as Elsa said: "I'm so much more realistic in Hollywood than in life." The fantastic parties aren't possible. Shown (to right) Katherine Auldridge, James Elton, Elsa and Linda Darnay.

Elsa Finds Little Fun In Films

—Elsa Maxwell, author of "Women Take a Sneeze," says she finds little fun in the film adaptation of her novel. "I'm not a party girl," she says. "I'm a realist."

Maxwell, 35, who wrote the best-selling novel, is pictured here in a scene from the film. She is wearing a light-colored dress and is looking down at something in her hands. The background is dark and out of focus.

Y. FAIR

NEW YORK, N.Y. (AP)—The New York City Fair "World of Tomorrow" will be the largest and most spectacular fair ever held in the city. It will feature a wide variety of exhibits, including a large model of a city of the future, a large model of a ship, and a large model of a plane. The fair will also feature a large model of a city of the future, a large model of a ship, and a large model of a plane.

Squalus Salvage—Oscar L. Morrison cuts 76-pound link of chain made especially to raise the sunken Squalus. Some 85 feet of the chain will be used in the raising, with pontoons (inset) helping to bring the submarine to the surface. Work is done at Portsmouth.

Warn Parents of Fireworks

Adult supervision of the use of fireworks was urged today by

State Fire Marshal Stephen C. Garrison. Supervision of the use of fireworks is possible if the mother and father restrict their children to using fire works on the holiday, says Fire Marshal Garrison.

State and local police were urged to pressure all sellers of bonfire fireworks because of the many accidents that have resulted from misuse of bonfire fireworks.

Do you want to know ...for sure...which is the ONE BEST BREAD?

READ THE AMAZING FACTS BELOW!

THE WORLD'S BEST JURY—the world's biggest jury has now decided—once and for all—which is the one best bread in America!

546,476 WOMEN—HOUSEWIVES WHO USE BREAD EVERY DAY—mothers who see their families eat it at every meal—wives who take pride in their cooking—over half a million of them—have set out to prove honestly and impartially which bread is really the one best!

THEY HAVE GONE TO THEIR FOOD STORES—seen slices of every bread on sale—examined them and compared them—critically and fairly—for flavor, texture and aroma. Here is the amazing result!

494,231—ACTUALLY 9 OUT OF EVERY 10—have proved to their own satisfaction that Slo-Baked Wonder Bread is far and away the one best bread. Just think of it—for every woman who picked another kind of bread there were nine women who chose Wonder Bread. Every name is on file—546,476 of them—actual records you can examine—Proof—certified Proof—that Wonder Bread is the one best bread.

"HOW CAN YOU ACCOUNT FOR THIS AMAZING DIFFERENCE?" The very best ingredients, of course. Carefully controlled scientific modern bakery methods. And—perhaps most important of all—Slo-baking. Every loaf of Wonder Bread is slo-baked,—baked about 13% longer than ordinary kinds. Thus, much more of the flavor, and freshness, and deliciousness is retained in Slo-Baked Wonder Bread.

IS IT ANY WONDER THEN, that Wonder Bread is the only bread baked at the New York World's Fair? Additional proof that Wonder Bread is the favorite of millions.

SO, WON'T YOU FORGET THE NAMES, forget the claims and take the word of the housewives of America—half a million of them—who have proved for you that Wonder Bread is really the one best bread!

GET THE BEST FOR YOUR MONEY—the best for your family! The freshest! Start today—Serve Slo-Baked Wonder Bread—from NOW on! Remember—the one best bread—Wonder Bread—costs no more than the second best!

N. E. Industrial Slump Explained

The industrial slump in the Northeast is explained by a combination of factors. The lack of new orders and the slow pace of production are the main reasons. The market is expected to remain weak for some time.

Fight Experts Blow Cold on Louis Again

NEW YORK, June 30.

NO SOONER HAD JOE LOUIS' saffron hams hit the deck at the Yankee Stadium in the third round of Wednesday's hatchet murder, than the ringside experts and $27 patrons began to chant "Bum" again. And today the wisemen of our craft are taking editorial pokes at Joe's "China jaw."

AUSTEN LAKE

But there has been a little game among the experts. Now they are puffing cold again, just as they puffed hot last winter when Louis knocked out Nathan Mann. They puffed cold enough to grow a beard of icicles when Schmeling hit Louis a flock of busts on the cheekbone in their first collision. They heated up cautiously when Louis biffed Sharkey over and then put on typographical overcoats when Pastor ran away for 10 rounds. But they turned up their heat again when Joe hacked Braddock to a bloody pulp. But when Farr stayed erect for 15 rounds the refrigeration was terrific.

So now what is happening? Why Louis, the "lethal leopard," the "india rubber man with electric reflexes," the "russet-gloved assassin," the "macabre maestro of mayhem" and all that polysyllabic twaddle, is a "bum" again. And why is that? (1) Because the pugilistic professors saw him take four rounds to etherize a class C heavyweight and (2) because he was spun on the heel of his pants. What kind of a champion is that?

Dempsey Fought Some Floperoo

THE EXPERTS FORGET THAT JACK DEMPSY, who once was called a "flop" fighter, was a champion. He was a champion because he fought a "flop" fighter and won.

There is something in the world of sport known only to those who have fought a "flop" fighter. The "flop" fighter is a man who is a "flop" fighter. He is a "flop" fighter because he is a "flop" fighter. He is a "flop" fighter because he is a "flop" fighter. He is a "flop" fighter because he is a "flop" fighter.

The day after Max Schmeling boxed Louis out of the ring, he was a "flop" fighter. He was a "flop" fighter because he was a "flop" fighter. He was a "flop" fighter because he was a "flop" fighter. He was a "flop" fighter because he was a "flop" fighter.

Some of the "flop" fighters are "flop" fighters. They are "flop" fighters because they are "flop" fighters. They are "flop" fighters because they are "flop" fighters. They are "flop" fighters because they are "flop" fighters.

What Do They Want?

NOT I ARGUE THAT THE BEST ANYONE can do on the eve of the big business is to decide what opinion he wishes to hold and then be stuck with it if need be. If, by pure penetrating reason he decides that Louis is just a punk imposing on his good luck, let him not devote when Louis blasts the biceps from some hulking wretch.

LOUIS TO RETIRE AFTER FOUR BOUTS

By BILL CORUM

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 30 (AP)—Young Brown Joe Louis, who has been called the greatest heavyweight fighter in the world, today announced that he will retire after four more bouts.

"That's the price, whether it will be raised or dropped, many things, including this."

But the expert is not off when he says that Louis, who has been called the greatest heavyweight fighter in the world, today announced that he will retire after four more bouts.

PASTOR GO IN DETROIT

But it is the carefully worked out plan of those close to Louis, who want him to be remembered as a great champion, of course. But also as a smiling and inspiring to his race.

Sarah Beats Briton To Enter 4th Round

WIMBLEDON, June 30 (AP)—Mrs. Sarah Patricia Fayyan, petite Cambridge, Mass., girl entered the fourth round of the women's singles of the all-England tennis championships today with a 6-2, 6-3 defeat of Miss D. A. Hawthorn of Great Britain.

SARAH PATRICIA FAYYAN

As usual, Mrs. Fayyan played a "chicken" game, and though her French opponent started the match with a love game, she never had a chance against the American girl's powerful game.

Herbert Henkel of Germany, seeded fifth, moved into the quarter final round of the men's singles by defeating Johnny H. L. French, a French veteran 6-1, 6-0.

Lefty Kras of Chicago and Howard Cooke of Portland, Ore., were in the fourth round of the women's doubles.

They defeated Lady D. Beavers and Miss C. Shepherd-Barron of England, 6-2, 6-3.

Reggie Jacobs of Berkeley, Cal., teamed with Billy Verke of England to justify their No. 1 seeding in the women's doubles. They defeated Lady D. Beavers and Miss C. Shepherd-Barron of England, 6-2, 6-3.

Two other seeded players, Miss Hula Krishnaswami of India and Miss N. B. R. of India, were in the fourth round of the women's singles.

RAIN STOPS SOX-ATHLETICS; YANKEES HERE FOR 3 GAMES

While looking ahead to another invasion of the Yankees—which is by no means a pleasant sight—the Red Sox finish their two-game tangle with the Athletics at Fenway Park today, giving Emerson Dickman a chance to move up in the mound ratings.

(Boston Evening American Photo.)

"THEN CURVE HIM"—Connie Mack gives rookie Henry Pippin advanced lesson in pitching. That the Sacramento kid is an apt pupil is proved by the fact he has twice held the Yanks to four hits this year, winning one of them.

Blushing a deep purple over the loss of the first game to the A's by a score of 8-6, the Sox are in the customary sorry spot, having their hands loaded with the all-enders and the prospect of the Yankees just around the corner—a double-barrelled headache.

Crenin is saving his ace—axe in their most recent starts—for the Yankees. The single game with the world champions tomorrow and the twin-bill on Sunday amount to the last chance the Fenway floor has this season of coming without shouting distance of the Bronx Bombers.

Those being saved, possibly for slaughter, are Greve, Auker and Ostermuller.

Crenin gambles with Dickman.

GAME OFF

Today's game between the Red Sox and Athletics, which was to have closed the series at Fenway Park, was called off shortly after noon because of rain. The A's left immediately for Washington where they open tomorrow. The Sox will close their home stand on the week-end with the Yankees, with whom they play a single game tomorrow and a double-header Sunday.

hoping the sophomore who has won one and lost one this campaign will pitch his club to a splice in the pair of games with the A's. Opposing Dickman will be Billy Beckman (2-1), who won 20 games for Atlanta last year.

The Mackmen—olivia Manager Connie Mack—were expected to be pop-overs for the Red Sox in this brief skirmishing, following their collapse before the thundering Yankees on Wednesday when they lost by 23-2 and 10-1, getting only a "safety" in two games while the Bombers whiffed out 12 homers. But the annihilated A's made a sharp recovery, found feeble Sox pitching for 17 hits and left the locale in a state of glum embarrassment. Bob Johnson chauffeured home four runs with a homer and single as the A's showed they had learned something by looking at the Yanks' lessons on hitting the day previous.

SABBATH GAME SELL-OUT

Crenin may have his varsity infield on hand for the Sunday twin-bill with the Yankees, which has been a sell-out for some time. . . . Doer, Fox and Tabor may be back in their positions. . . . Fox is reported resting comfortably at St. Elizabeth's Hospital showing rapid signs of returning to normalcy. . . . Ice-bag treatments are forestalling the threat of an appendectomy. . . .

Famous Infield To Don Spangles

Bill Carrigan, who will manage the American League club which will represent the "Juniors" at the Veterans of Foreign Wars "Old Times Day" at Fenway Park on July 12, is planning a novelty for the fans.

Connie Mack's famous $106,666 infield, comprising Eddie Collins at second base, Stuffy McInnis at first base, Jack Barry at shortstop and Frank "Home Run" Baker at third base, will be reunited and sent into action on the field day.

Eddie Collins frequently works out at Fenway Park and only lately played in a real ball game against Honus Wagner's Nationals at Coopersdown. Barry, of course, keeps in shape as coach of the nine at Holy Cross, and neither Baker nor McInnis will admit, and rightly so, that he has put away his baseball spangles for good.

Fred Mitchell is saying little about his National League stars whom he will manage at "Old Times Day" but Fred is "Capey" and in a day or two he will announce something of his plans.

Bees Game Off; Boys See Fair

NEW YORK, June 30.—The Boston Bees got a chance to see the World's Fair today when rain caused their game with the Giants to be called off.

The boys were feeling pretty chipper as they wended their way toward the Long Island exposition because they had trimmed the high flying Giants 8-2, behind the nine-hit pitching of Deacon Danny MacFayden in the lone game of the series here.

The Giants had won 15 of their last 17 games before the B's tied into them, and Casey Stengel not only got great satisfaction from halting their streak, but from the fact that MacFayden was the boy who did it.

Danny was sent home on the last western trip with arm trouble, and his comeback was very encouraging to the club.

Now with Jim Turner to go, and a long home stand ahead after the week-end series with the Phillies, the Bees are in the most optimistic frame of mind they have been since the early spring.

The Bees canned four Giant batters for 16 hits, with home runs by Garm and Hassett featuring the attack.

Savior Bill Posedel, who has won six games since coming from Brooklyn, will pitch the opener for the Bees in Philly tomorrow.

Single Stine Trotting Winner

TOLEDO, O., June 30 (AP).—The first race last night on the grand circuit program, the 2:10 pace, showed a marked reversal in form as Duane Direct took the first heat and finished fifth in the second, which was won by Single Stine, sixth place in the opening center.

PLAY THE BASEBALL WHOZIT GAME

Have Fun and Win a PRIZE

WHO IS THIS PLAYER?

He is.....
My Name.....
Address.....

You Can Win One of These Awards If
You Can Identify the Boston Players

Read the Rules Carefully

1. Beginning in the Boston Sunday Advertiser of June 18 and continuing each week-day a "Whozit" picture of a Boston Red Sox or Boston Red Sox ball player will be printed in the Boston Daily Record and Boston Evening American until 36 have appeared. Give the correct name of the ball player shown in the picture.
2. Only one set of answers can be submitted by any one person, but each member of a family may enter, and no family will be entitled to win more than one prize.
3. Hold all answers until you have the completed set of 36. DO NOT SEND IN INDIVIDUAL PICTURES.
4. This contest is open to all bona fide New England residents except employees of the New England Newspaper Publishing Company and other Hearst enterprises and members of their families or relatives.
5. Send your entry by first class mail or bring it in: Baseball Whozit Contest Editor, Boston Evening American, 5 Winthrop Square, Boston, Mass., P. O. Box 886. All entries must bear sufficient postage to be considered.
6. All solutions must be accompanied by a letter of not more than 60 words on: "Who is My Favorite Ball Player on the Boston Team, and Why." Letters will be considered only in the event of a tie in solving these pictures. Entries must be in the office of the editor, or postmarked not later than midnight, TEN days after the last picture is printed.
7. A committee of judges, appointed by the Boston Daily Record and Boston Evening American will select the winners in the contest. A contestant, by sending a set of solutions, indicates acceptance of these Rules and Conditions and agrees that the decision of the judges is final and further agrees that there can be no appeal from the judges' decisions. No entries can be returned. All entries become the property of the Boston Daily Record and Boston Evening American.
8. Awards will be paid to the person sending in the nearest correctly solved complete set of pictures. Neither handwriting nor elaborateness will count. In the event of a tie between or among two or more contestants for one of the prizes, the prize or prize next in order will be combined in a lump sum and then evenly distributed among those tying.
9. Contestants are not required to purchase these newspapers in order to compete. Copies of these newspapers on file in the public libraries may be consulted instead.

NEW YORK, June 30—Joe Jacobs, head man in the management of Tony Galento, wasn't any happier when Max Schmeling became world's champion than he was today.

"Schmeling was generally recognized as a good fighter," declared Jacobs in way of explanation, "and so I took things in stride when he reached the top."

"In the case of Galento, almost every sports writer as well as those persons who are close to the boxing game agreed he was a lucky hound to get a crack at the big money that goes with a championship bout."

"Personally I have always felt Louis was an overrated fighter. That is why I was so confident Schmeling would knock him out in their first fight. Age beat Max in the second contest."

"It is my opinion that pneumonia rather than Louis defeated Galento. If this bout had been held before Tony had pneumonia last Summer, he would have knocked Louis out in two or three rounds."

"Since having pneumonia, Galento tires more easily than he formerly did. He was exhausted from his own efforts after he knocked Louis down, and not from any punching he received from the champion."

"I have been around the boxing game as man and boy for 30 years and I got my greatest thrill out of the sport when Tony dropped Louis to the canvas in the third round. Galento had to jump up a bit to catch Louis on the chin with his left hook. I thought this was the blow that did the trick. I was so excited at the time that I didn't even see the right hand smash to the body that Tony cut loose with as Louis started to sag."

Declares Referee Donovan Acted Properly

JACOBS DIDN'T have any complaint against Referee Arthur Donovan for stopping the bout in the fourth round as the challenger rested helplessly on the ropes.

"Galento was only a few feet away from me at the time," asserted Jacobs, "and I could see that he was all through. He couldn't defend himself and it would have been unfair to have permitted Louis to have hit him. I was pleased when Referee Donovan stepped in and halted the match."

Jacobs insists Louis threw his best punch of the bout in the first round.

"It was a full right-hand punch to the jaw," declared Jacobs,

Denies Tavern Keeper Had the Jitters

JACOBS DENIED strenuously that Galento had his jitters during the weighing in ceremonies.

"Some of the newspaper writers thought Tony was nervous as the boxes weighed in," asserted Jacobs, "but such was not the case. Maybe during the active weighing in, Tony was not as talkative as he has been on other occasions, but he wasn't nervous. He joked with acquaintances of the Boxing Commission and with myself as he prepared for the weighing in ceremonies and when they were over."

"Certainly nobody will accuse Galento of being nervous once he entered the ring. He was in command at all times. There was a complaint over the fact Galento had vaseline on his face, and it was ordered removed by Referee Donovan."

"Make Louis take off his grease," demanded Tony.

"The referee looked at the champion and told him to remove the grease."

"Rub every bit of it off," roared Tony as he looked at Joe

Blackburn.

"Galento watched the operation to make sure that Blackburn complied fully with the instructions of the referee."

"A few seconds later the zong sounded and Galento took command. It was Louis who had the jitters after Tony hit him with a few hefty blows."

"I thought Galento won the first and third rounds. You could give Louis the second session on account of the knockdown he scored in that chapter, while he also carried the fourth round."

"Galento's showing helped the boxing game. The public has tired of seeing Louis knock over second rate opponents in a round. I believe everybody was satisfied Tony gave the champion a fight."

"In doing so, Galento proved Louis can be beaten. I hope to get a heavyweight who can accomplish this result."

In his "Mr. Boston" column in the Boston Sunday Advertiser, Jack Conway answers this timely question:

"Who can beat Joe Louis?"

Doubles Final at Longwood

Norma Meister of Sharon, who celebrated her 14th birthday by defeating Peggy Howe of Weston in the final round of the Younger Girls' division of the state tennis championships, at Longwood, met Miss Howe once again there today, this time in the doubles finals.

Rain caused postponement of all but this match, in which Miss Meister was paired with Judy Atterbury of New York against the Howe sisters, Peggy and Betty.

The match was moved into the covered courts.

The other matches were put over until tomorrow.

In the Junior Girls' singles, the final match will find Lanny Myers of Hartford, Conn., and Katherine Hubbel of Dedham on opposite sides of the net.

Miss Hubbel reached the finals in the Junior Division last year, only to be eliminated by Sissy Madden, who this year is devoting her entire time to double play.

Miss Myers is taking her initial crack at Longwood this year, but has a quarter final match in the New England Ladies' tournament held earlier in the month at Hartford as her greatest recommendation.

Finalists in the Junior Girls' doubles are Miss Madden paired with Miss Hubbell against Frances Keyes and Priscilla Tapley, both of Winchester.

In the boys' Junior division the best match tomorrow promises to be between Al Everett, Newton High court captain, and Arthur J. Prochaska, from Hartford, Ct.

These two lads met last year in the finals, and after three hours of grueling play Everett was returned the winner. In latter tussles, however, Prochaska, who will enter Yale next fall, whipped his opponent twice.

In the younger boys' single division the likely choice for the championship match are Blair Hawley, defending champion, and Peter Stewart.

Hawley has a semi-final round with Jack Geller, New Rochelle, N. Y., while Stewart must first polish off the dangerous Albert Shafer of Tarrytown before entering the finals.

In the doubles of the Younger Boys' class Hawley and his partner Bruce Daniels will do battle with David Emerson of Providence and Bob Johnson of Lexington.

Tom Sharkey Challenges Old Joe 'Jeff'

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30 (AP)—Youngsters will be able to join old times in saying "I saw the Jeffries-Sharkey fight," if a challenge by Sailor Tom Sharkey, 67-year-old heavyweight boxer, to Jim Jeffries, former champion, is accepted.

Sharkey, now an actor in the Calaveras of the Golden West on Treasure Island, challenged Jeffries to meet him in a three-round exhibition bout on "Tom Sharkey Day" at the island July 5.

The two old time greats of the boxing game met in 1893 and again the next year with Jeffries winning both decisions.

They say a good start is half the battle, and if that's so old "Toosh-em-up" Tony Lazzari has every reason to be optimistic over his future as a baseball manager.

Tony took charge of the Toronto Maple Leafs, International League cellar dwellers, on June 19, and since then the Leafs have shown a marked improvement, winning seven of their last 10 starts.

Mackerel Running Off Manomet Point

By DARK MONTREAL

The mackerel are off Manomet Point, and this time there are more than one—referring to the single I reported several weeks ago. Ollie Rodman took one on the fly rod in the heavy blow of last Sunday to start off the real season.

After the easterly tapered off, Al Tripp sighted several schools and went after them with his outboard. (And when Al goes fishing himself, it means the mackerel season has really started.) He had good luck trolling a No. 2 pickerspoon with a bucktail. Quite a few were taken Wednesday. I had some success with a small barracuda. Eggie Thurston and I did a little experimenting with lures.

Eggie trolled a tandem reverse-spin, silver-flash spoon with sea worms behind. This is one of the trick lures I promised to try out for Edwin C. Lane. He took some fine pollock with it and a few cod fish, no mackerel. On a four-ounce fly rod I trolled one of the new maribou feathers that resemble a small mackerel and were recommended by Sumner Towne for striped bass fishing in the Butter-nick Narrows. No luck. I don't think it was a fair test of the fly, because the fish were deep, and I didn't get it down to them. We trolled outside the White Horse surf with no strippers in sight, or caught.

W. W. Burns of West Roxbury, assistant manager of Hotel Statler, starts with "The Mrs." tomorrow morning on a 900 mile drive to Cape Breton Island where he will catch a record silver salmon in the famed Margaree River. I hope he's not too early, but from reports I get he will be. Stephen F. Chadwick, national commander of the American Legion, will fly with Chief Warden Levi Dow to Lake Chemquaquamcook in the northern Maine wilderness next week. There are big squawrels there.

Third member of Maine's The One-That-Didn't-Get-Away Club is Harry Petter, a Waterville policeman, who caught an 11-pound landlocked salmon in Messalonskee Lake of the Belgrades. The fish weighed a big minimum on an archer spinner and didn't jump once during a 25 minute battle.

First Atlantic salmon caught in Machias River, Maine, on a fly rod and taken by Horace Sylvester, of Machias. It was a 7-pounder. Now there is a move afoot to develop it, as Denys River was developed.

Two fish taken at Miami, Fla., landed H. C. Berkowitz, of Boston, in the Flying Fishermen Club. First was a 126-pound tarpon—registered for the 1939-40 tarpon tournament—and second was a bonefish weighing eight pounds, one ounce. . . . Sumner Towne is backing plans for a light tackle club for surf fishermen.

The striped bass run fell off again sharply this week. The season that started so well has certainly failed to develop and has some of the boys worried. Plum Island waters, North River, Wewamutt and Buttermill Bay have produced little.

A few fish have been taken in outside waters such as those around Hog Island, but not many, and there are few bull bass in the surf. Squidnoct and the Vineyard pond openings are giving up a few. The schools that were swarming earlier have apparently not gone north, because reports from Maine on strippers are very few. Where are they?

Mail From the Creel

B. L. Hingham—No, the trout season lasts through July.

R. Brigham, Hyannis—The net you describe is illegal. I'm putting the question of the lighted lure up in the fish and game division and will let you know.

Miss Elma Royce—Yes, several of the reservoirs are being opened to fishing, starting tomorrow. You may obtain permits to fish Wachusett, Framingham No. 2, Lombard Mill Pond and Lake Cochituate by applying to the water division of the Metropolitan District Commission, 29 Somerset street, Boston. I think, for a small fee, you may get a permit to put a boat on the waters.

Harry Woolson, Brighton—I agree that the minimum on black bass should be 12 inches. Why don't you start something in the club?
